

GREAT SOCIETY EVENT.

Marriage of the Daughter of Secretary Blaine.

WALTER DAMROSCH THE LUCKY MAN

The Bride and Groom United in the Holy Bonds of Matrimony by the Rev. Dr. Douglas, Rector of St. John's Episcopal Church—How the Bride Was Dressed—A List of Some of the Prominent Guests—The Presents.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 17.—Margaret Isabella Blaine, oldest daughter of the secretary of state, was married at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the residence of her father, in this city, to Walter Damrosch, of New York. The engagement of Miss Blaine was announced some months ago, but the marriage has been postponed because of the comparatively recent death of Mrs. Coppinger, her sister, and later of her brother, Walker Blaine. Shortly after noon the guests began to arrive. They were welcomed by Mrs. and Mrs. Emmons Blaine and then by the secretary of state and his wife. The decorations for the event were of a modest but effective character. A white satin ribbon stretched across the drawing room, dividing it midway. On the other side of this ribbon, and in the library beyond, was the space reserved for the guests. As 1 o'clock drew near, the guests in great numbers, and it was soon evident that the wedding being less "private," room could never have been found for those invited.

Arrival of the President. The President and Mrs. Harrison drove over from the executive mansion a few minutes before 1 o'clock, and when they appeared in the reception room, they quickly became, for the moment, the centre of attention. Mrs. Harrison was also present as a member of the executive party. All of the cabinet members except the attorney-general were present. The members of diplomatic corps came as they would have come to a public function, arrayed in brilliant uniforms, and the impressive Chinese minister was present in his long robe of colored silk, the representatives of European governments in bright gold and silver lace. The assemblage not only filled the drawing-room and library, but overflowed into the hall when the guests were seated.

The bride and groom did not appear at the appointed hour. What bridal party ever did? It was nearly half-past 1 o'clock when the minister, Rev. G. W. Douglas, the rector of St. John's Episcopal church, took his position at the end of the drawing room. A few minutes later, the bride and groom entered the room of her father. She wore an imported dress of white mousseline de soie, demi-traine, with applique embroidery. She carried in her hand a bouquet of violets tied with white ribbon. With her came her bridesmaid, Miss Herbert Blaine, the daughter of the secretary of state, and her bridesmaid, Miss Blaine, the daughter of the secretary of state. The bride and groom were followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Herbert Blaine, the daughter of the secretary of state, and her bridesmaid, Miss Blaine, the daughter of the secretary of state.

In addition to those mentioned, there were within the ribboned enclosure the groom's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Damrosch, the groom's two unmarried sisters, his married sister, Mrs. Wissman, and his aunt, Miss VanHamburgh of New York. The bride's father, Mr. Blaine, and her mother, Mrs. Blaine, were seated on the right of the bride. The bride and groom were followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Herbert Blaine, the daughter of the secretary of state, and her bridesmaid, Miss Blaine, the daughter of the secretary of state.

Receiving Good Wishes. The ribbon was taken down then, and congratulations became general. For fully half an hour the bridal couple stood to receive the good wishes of their friends. At the end of that time the bride took the arm of President Harrison and went to the dining room on the first floor, where the wedding breakfast had been set. The breakfast was served from a table over which were strewn maiden hair fern, while on either side were large oval mirrors of L. Franks Brown's cast and the gifts of honor in the middle. It was fringed with lilies of the valley.

Will Go to Europe. The groom's only attendant was Frank Roosevelt, of New York. Miss Blaine's little nephews, sons of Col. Coppinger, walked one before and one behind the bridal party. After the wedding breakfast, the guests lingered only long enough to bid good bye to the family and to renew their congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Damrosch took an early evening train for New York, where the honeymoon will be passed. May 23, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie, they will sail for Europe and spend the summer at the Carnegie Scottish castle. They will return in September and go to housekeeping in their new home in New York.

The Wedding Presents. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Damrosch were of the diplomatic corps, a tea service of gold lined repoussé silver consisting of six pieces—tea pot, cream ever, sugar bowl, spoon bowl and kettle for hot water. President and Mrs. Harrison's gift is a large bowl for salad, with spoon and bowl. Senator and Mrs. Leland Stanford's present was an immense white satin-lined blue plush case of solid gold carving, fish and salad knives, forks and spoons, the latter with curiously carved handles of colored pearl, which, raised in gold, are the bride's initials, M. J. B. Vice President and Mrs. Morton sent a large case containing six articles in repoussé silver for the dressing table. Representative and Mrs. Hitt, of Illinois, sent a mahogany chest containing twelve dozen pieces of silver—dozen each of dinner, breakfast, and tea service, and a dozen forks, with spoons for each course, and bowls of every description.

Secretary Tracy's Gift. Secretary Tracy's gift was a silver bowl for small fruits. Mr. and Mrs. John McLean a silver salad bowl. Senator and Mrs. Leland Stanford's present was an immense white satin-lined blue plush case of solid gold carving, fish and salad knives, forks and spoons, the latter with curiously carved handles of colored pearl, which, raised in gold, are the bride's initials, M. J. B. Vice President and Mrs. Morton sent a large case containing six articles in repoussé silver for the dressing table. Representative and Mrs. Hitt, of Illinois, sent a mahogany chest containing twelve dozen pieces of silver—dozen each of dinner, breakfast, and tea service, and a dozen forks, with spoons for each course, and bowls of every description.

Mr. and Mrs. William Walter Phelps sent from abroad a pearl necklace, with diamond and sapphire pendants. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie's present was a silver tea service, similar to that sent by the diplomatic corps, lined with gold, and set out on a silver tray. The members of the cabinet united in a gift of twenty gold goblets, the stands set with rubies. Mr. Damrosch's gift to his bride was a string of diamonds for the neck, and diamond earrings. Mr. Damrosch's mother sent a superb lace handkerchief. Mrs. Blaine's present was a quantity of exquisite household linen. Mr. Blaine's gift was a house on Madison avenue, New York.

Other Handsome Presents. The postmaster-general and Mrs. Wanamaker gave an individual present, a large vase of cut glass, with a basket of fruit. Geo. W. Childs sent a toilet set of gold repoussé. Senator and Mrs. Hale a silver toilet pot. There are numberless miscellaneous gifts in addition. It is said the bride has a full set of household goods, there have been sixty dozen forks received. The jewels and personal ornaments represent every variety of the jeweler's art, and there are tables full of bric-a-brac and rare paintings.

A FUNERAL IN BOATS. Much Distress Caused by High Water at Columbia, Tex.

COLUMBIA, Tex., May 17.—The condition of this town is distressing in the extreme. The river has risen steadily for two weeks or more until it has overflowed the community. The first floors of the residences are submerged, the occupants being driven into the upper stories. From one-story cottages residents have been compelled to move to the homes of hospitable neighbors. The waters are still rising. There is but 1.80 square feet in Columbia out of water. Business is suspended, churches are closed, and the people go everywhere in boats.

A Procession of Boats. A novel scene, which has perhaps never been enacted before in Texas, was presented by the funeral of the late Gen. Duff. A large concourse of mourning friends, including the entire Masonic fraternity, followed the corpse to the cemetery, two miles from town, in boats. There were forty-six boats in the procession, with an average of five occupants in each. For thirty-two years, from 1858 to 1888, there had been no overflow in the Brazos at this point. Since 1888 there has been an unusual overflow, but none that was prolonged or did any damage.

Will Pray for Rain. ST. PAUL, Minn., May 17.—Archbishop John Ireland, of the archdiocese of St. Paul, has issued a general letter to every bishop and priest in his jurisdiction, which covers the general northwest, instructing them to aid after every mass a special prayer for rain for the general welfare of the crops. Reports from North Dakota indicate that a terrific wind storm has prevailed in the western part of the state for nearly twenty-four hours. The damage to growing crops has been very heavy. No amount rain has fallen to wet the ground, and farmers are much distressed.

Pleased by a Clever Crook. ADMIRAL, Mich., May 17.—The vessel's bank at Fremont, this county, has just been cleared by a clever crook calling himself Charles Edgerton. The fellow canvassed the country around selling cloth and accepted orders from some of the solid farmers for small bills of goods on local merchants. Then he astutely made facsimiles of the signatures thus obtained upon notes for various amounts, which he cashed at the bank. An attaché of the bank and sheriff's officers are on the trail of a Jackson crook, who is suspected of the forgery.

A Town Destroyed by Fire. STOUT CITY, Iowa, May 17.—Covington, the saloon town across the river about which so much has been written, was entirely consumed by fire between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning. Last January all the buildings on the west side of the only street were burned, and the blaze took all those at the east side. The buildings were burned. Six of these were occupied by saloons. Very little of the contents was saved. The loss is about $100,000, insured for less than half. There is no probability that the town will be rebuilt.

An Insane Mother's Murderous Deed. CHICAGO, May 17.—Mrs. Ada Ekstrom, wife of a mechanic at 16 Locust street, became insane about noon Friday and attempted to murder her two babies by throwing them from the second story of the building where they resided. The elder child, 2½ years of age, suffered a fractured skull and a broken arm. The other, aged 9 months, had an arm broken and was internally injured. It is thought both will recover. The mother was taken to the degenation hospital.

Horsemanship His Brother-in-Law. FALL RIVER, Mass., May 17.—James C. Eddy, mill treasurer, horsewhipped his brother-in-law, P. J. Gage, a prominent cotton broker on street Friday evening. The men have been at odds for a long time, the trouble growing out of an allegation by Eddy that his sister was badly treated by her husband. The affair caused a sensation owing to the prominence of the parties.

Became a Victim to Cocaine. LEXINGTON, Ky., May 17.—Dr. J. A. Stucky rushed through the streets of this city Wednesday night, trying to escape imaginary foes. Eight years ago Dr. Stucky was a leading physician here. His practice was large, his constitution weak. He resorted to cocaine, and mild insanity followed, resulting finally in complete and frenzied mania.

Ex-Senator Jones of Florida. DETROIT, Mich., May 17.—John E. Jones, of Pensacola, Fla., has petitioned that his father, ex-United States Senator Jones, of Florida, who still writes daily letters to the New York papers asserting that Mrs. Dr. Brown, of Palm, is his wife, be placed in St. Joseph's insane asylum.

SIBERIAN EXILES ROASTED ALIVE.

The Falling Walls of a Cathedral Topple Onto a Hospital, Resulting in the Death of the Inmates—The Triumphant Tour of Ex-Premier Gladstone from Ipswich to Norwich—The Clongorey Estate Tenants—Foreign Notes.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 17.—Horrible scenes are reported as having occurred during the burning of Tomsk, the capital of Western Siberia. The place was visited simultaneously by a conflagration and a cyclone, the result of the combined disasters being the destruction of three-quarters of the buildings, which were of wood, and the loss of hundreds of lives. The cathedral, situated in the High Town, is in ashes. The walls of the edifice in falling crushed an adjacent hospital, bury the inmates, who were subsequently roasted alive.

No Time to Assist Exiles. The garrison bravely refused to render the least assistance in saving lives and property, on the plea that they had enough to do to protect the barracks and other government buildings. They also added that they had no time to assist "worthless exiles." In strong contrast to this action of the troops was that of the worthy bishop and his assistant priests. Marching through the burning city at the head of a procession, with banners and other sacred emblems, he stopped at frequent intervals to give absolution to the dying and to bless the dead.

Buried in a Mantle of Snow. And never was the consolation carried by these sacred rites more greatly needed than by the panic-stricken mob of sufferers who huddled together in the streets, and, firmly believing that the end of the world had come, abandoned themselves to the stolid despair. Much of the suffering, however, might have been avoided had there been the slightest attempt at organized relief. As if fire and water were not capable of inflicting misery enough on the unfortunate outcasts, the storm was followed by a sudden fall in the temperature, and soon the devastated city was buried beneath a mantle of snow that added stinging cold to the sufferings of the thousands of shelterless men, women and children.

AN OVATION TO GLADSTONE. Vast Crowds Welcome the Ex-Premier at Norwich and Elsewhere.

LONDON, May 17.—Gladstone's route from Ipswich to Norwich, Friday, was literally lined with his admirers. As every station he was greeted by crowds of people who had assembled hours before the arrival of his train and patiently awaited his coming. At a few of the stations he was compelled to speak in response to repeated calls, but his remarks were brief and unimportant from a political point of view.

The Welcome at Norwich. As the train rolled into Norwich a tremendous cheer went up from the great crowd surrounding the station and the ex-premier's appearance on the platform was the signal for another and a greater outburst of applause. As Gladstone and the ladies alighted, he received him entered carriages and were driven slowly away the vast crowd formed in line and followed, cheering as they marched. No greater demonstration of popular admiration for a British subject than that which characterized Gladstone's triumphal entry into Norwich has ever been witnessed.

Compromising with Tenants. LONDON, May 17.—The offer made by the agent of the Clongorey estate to settle with the tenants on the basis of the payment of one instead of three years' rent, as previously exacted, has been accepted conditionally by the latter. The conditions laid down by the tenants are that the estate shall reinstate all of the tenants who have been evicted, and place them upon the same footing in the future as those remaining, and that the houses destroyed shall be rebuilt and taken into the possession of the evicted tenants without expense to them. It is thought probable that the conditions will be accepted in order to avoid further trouble.

Dividing Up the Duck Continent. LONDON, May 17.—The Standard's Berlin despatch says that France and Germany have agreed, in order to avoid disputes on the frontier, to strip a wide space of ground on either side of the boundary line and place at frequent intervals large stones marking the line of delimitation conspicuously. Negotiations with England with regard to France in active progress, but thus far without any result, as both sides are firmly adhering to their demands.

Suicide of Consul McKeane. LONDON, May 17.—Thomas McKeane, United States consul at Portsmouth, has committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver in the chest. Found Floating in the Lake. OSHKOSH, Wis., May 17.—The mystery of the disappearance of H. Hands has been solved by the discovery of his body floating in the lake. April 7 he departed on a fishing tug and did not return, although his boat was found, showing no evidence of an accident. Some of his friends claimed that he had been murdered, and it was also reported that he had been seen in a nearby city. He is supposed to have been accidentally drowned.

Took His Own Life. HELENA, Mont., May 17.—Edward Floyd Crosby, son of ex-Governor Crosby and son-in-law of Bishop Brewer, committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart. No definite cause is assigned. He had bid his wife good night only a few minutes before, and had gone to his room and undressed for bed. He was dead when found.

A Timely Discovery. DALLAS, Texas, May 17.—An attempt was made at midnight to burn the court house. The county records and other valuable papers were found placed in a heap, saturated with oil and fired. Timely discovery prevented their total destruction.

A TOILSOME JOURNEY.

An Entire Family Walk from Marion County, Kas., to St. Joseph, Mo. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 17.—George Brooks, his wife and five children ranging in age from 6 to 14 years have arrived in St. Joseph, having walked from Marion county, Kas., over three hundred miles, since the first of the month. The family went to southwestern Kansas during the boom and played up a claim. Poor crops resulted in their leaving both farm and stock. Their neighbors were in almost as hard circumstances as themselves, and when Brooks concluded to start to his old home at Sigourney, Iowa, nobody could assist him.

A Terrible Condition. He finally determined to walk, and his conclusion was partly carried out. When they arrived here they were in a horrible condition. The wife's shoes were worn out and her feet were one mass of sores. The younger children, boys aged 4 and 6 years, had walked nearly 100 miles, and their feet were in a terrible condition. Brooks insists that there are hundreds in the new counties of Kansas whose condition is in no way any better than that of his family.

ROBBED OF HIS FORTUNE. Thirteen Thousand Dollars Taken from an Ohio Farmer.

CINCINNATI, May 17.—Henry Freeman, a farmer residing at Heinrich, Shelby county, Illinois, was robbed of $13,000 in the railroad station at Delaware, Ohio. Freeman was on his way home from New York, where he had been to dispose of a lot of stock and produce. He carried a big satchel under his arm, and seemed very anxious about it. The train stopped at Delaware for dinner. Freeman got off with his precious package, which he deposited on a high shelf.

Bricks Instead of Money. He forgot it for a few minutes, but went after it before the train started. Some time after leaving Delaware Freeman opened the satchel and nearly fainted when he found his money gone and the bricks instead of money. The total amount which was about $13,000, represented almost the unhappy farmer's entire fortune. There is no clue to the thieves, but it is believed they must have followed him.

HE DIED, HOWEVER. Christian Scientists Make a Mistake.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 17.—J. H. Vincent, mining broker, died here after sensational experiences with Christian Scientists, of which sect his wife is a member. While suffering from Bright's disease two months ago Vincent was attended by two leading physicians, who pronounced his disease incurable. Then Mrs. Vincent drove them out of the house and forbade their return. The invalid's mother even was forced out of her lodging in the same house because of her refusal to even pray for the patient, and, despite the sufferings of the patient, no medicine was administered. When the Humane society demanded admission the sick man was propped against a window and forced to say that he was being treated all right. Vincent came from Chicago six years ago.

A Minneapolis Alderman Acquitted. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 17.—Alderman John T. McGowan has been found not guilty of the charge of accepting a bribe. Alderman McGowan will probably sue The Times and Alderman Emerson Clark. Alderman Trueshaber, who is to be tried for the same offense, will be heard next Monday week. The grand jury resumes its duties Tuesday, and it is rumored that more "boodle" indictments will be found against members of the city council.

Meantime the continuance for another year of what is known as the modus vivendi will serve to show our earnest desire to cultivate the most friendly relations with the United States government and people."

Charities and Corrections. BALTIMORE, May 17.—The morning hours of the national conference of charities and corrections were chiefly taken up by the reading of papers on "Immigration," and they all favored some means of preventing the influx of paupers and criminals. The committee on charity organizations reported seventy-eight charity organizations in this country, and that it costs $23.32 each to ferret out impostors, and $27.22 to make each worthy family self-supporting. The number of the poor assisted during the year having been 1,807.

HUMOROUS SPEECH ON THE TARIFF.

He Creates a Roar of Laughter by Saying He Had Friends in the Gallery Who Wanted to Hear Him Talk—Remarks by McMillin, Cannon, McKinley and Breckinridge on the Tariff Bill—The Day in the Senate.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 17.—The house Saturday ordered a conference on the senate anti-trust bill. The conference reports on the Lynn, Mass., and Hudson, N. Y., public buildings were agreed to. The house then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. McKinley asked that the amendments offered by the committee ways and means be acted upon soon as possible. McMillin of Tennessee, declared that the bill was being considered in an unfair manner and that it was impossible to consider and debate the bill in the few days allowed by the committee on rules. Cannon of Illinois thought that the amendments from the ways and means committee should be acted upon promptly. Breckinridge of Kentucky opposed the amendments, which fixed a duty of 60 cents per square yard and 40 per cent ad valorem on Oriental, Berlin and similar rugs.

Allen of Mississippi created a roar of laughter by stating that he had some friends in the gallery who were in the gallery and desired to hear him talk, and that if there was any one man in the United States thoroughly posted on the tariff, he was the man. He had discussed the subject on a canal boat from Syracuse to Albany with the result already known. He came back from that trip and had a conference with President Cleveland and they agreed that the people in whose interest they had made the fight had not appreciated it. Complaint had been made that there was so much said in the interest of the farmer. Members must be excused. In talking about the farmer, because talk was all the farmer got. The matter continued in his humorous strain and concluded by reciting some verses descriptive of the woes of the farmer ending with the refrain: "But we love the G. O. P. for it gives us tariff yet." The amendment was agreed to.

National Republican Committee. WASHINGTON CITY, May 17.—Gen. W. W. Dudley, a member of the National Republican executive committee, says the next meeting of the committee will be held here on the 20th inst. He also says that Gen. Clarkson's absence from Washington was the sole reason why the meeting called for the 20th inst. was postponed and postponed. Gen. Clarkson, he says, is really the only member of the committee who has kept the run of matters here of late, and who has done any work, and that it would have been useless to have had a session of the committee without him. His absence and the other unexpected announcements of the members of the committee made the postponement of the meeting inevitable.

DEED OF A MANIAC. He Murders the Superintendent of a County Poor Farm.

FREEPORT, Ill., May 17.—Jacob S. Reisinger, superintendent of the county poor farm, was brutally murdered with an ax by an insane man named William Wilhelm. Mr. Reisinger and a farm hand named Gagon were riding on the front seat of a wagon, the lunatic standing up behind them. Think He Is a Burglar.

In the short street station yesterday a man slept all day, getting over the effects of a quantity of whisky he had bought with pennies and nickels. The same man bought a beefsteak yesterday morning for 25 cents and had it cooked at a levee hotel for 20 cents, both of which sums he paid in coppers. The police heard of the kind of money he was spending and concluded that was evidence enough to arrest him on suspicion of having robbed Evans' book store Friday night. He was tow drunk yesterday to tell his name or be examined, but his case will be looked into to-morrow.

ENTHUSIASTIC PROHIBIS.

Delegates to the County Convention Selected and Committee Reorganized.

A goodly number of the prohibitionists of this township quietly met at the W. C. T. U. rooms last night in convention. Capt. James A. Wilson, a prominent G. A. R. man and uncompromising prohibitionist, was selected as chairman, and A. F. Smith as secretary.

The following delegates were chosen for the county convention, which meets at the court house on Tuesday at 10 a. m.: Anderson Bradley, Elder P. W. Humphrey, Theodore Coleman, W. E. Mann, John Sickle, W. C. Outten, D. L. Bunn, S. F. Perry, James A. Wilson, Henry Hunsley, B. F. Ross, George A. Henderson, Dr. A. D. Bridgman, W. D. Kinkle, J. W. Averitt. Delegates were empowered to send substitutes in case they cannot attend.

The township committee was reorganized as follows: W. C. Outten, chairman, N. E. Adams, Dr. John A. Dawson, George Hunsley and S. L. Hill.

A lively discussion followed re-organizing the nomination of a full county ticket. All favored such action, but there was a difference of opinion as to nominating Tuesday or later. Speeches were made by W. C. Outten, A. F. Smith, Dr. E. W. Moore, S. F. Perry, W. E. Mann, Mr. Pitzer, J. C. Ewila and others. The following resolution was finally adopted: Resolved, That it is the sentiment of this township convention that a county ticket be nominated for all offices either at the county convention, May 29, or at a convention called for that purpose at a later date.

DECATUR.

Time's changes effect wonderful things sometimes, and generally the changes are for the better, but this is not true if the recollections of those who listened to the strains of music made by Decatur's first brass band could for aught. Music at least hasn't improved greatly in the last 33 years. The names of the first "band boys" are those of well known, prominent citizens of Decatur, nearly every one of whom have acquired snug competences since the toots of their horns first reverberated through the streets of Decatur. It was in 1857 that a number of young men conceived the idea of organizing a brass band in this city and they secured the services of Professor Kingsfield, a German musician of St. Louis, to teach them. Sam Gates was the leader of the band; Will L. Smith played "first B flat"; George Patterson "second B flat"; David S. Shellabarger performed the part of first alto to perfection. John Roswell played second alto without a mouthpiece. W. W. Lapham was "baritone," Jake Kauffman was tuba player, and a good one, David Strohm played "B bass," Henry Duhamel was "bass drum," and James Haworth drum the beating business on the bass drum. The above were the first members, but shortly afterwards J. G. Starr went into the band as "solo alto;" Jo Hicketta as alto; W. W. Zimmerman joined to do the cornet act, and John Kauffman and Frank Fuller joined on general principles. The band kept up its organization and furnished really excellent music for five years, when the demands of business caused a disbandment. Many of the members, whose history states were the gayest of the gay and the readiest for a toot, are now "grown and revered seigniors," and it requires a strain of the imagination to think of them as the twinkling gay and giddy band boys of 1857. Of the members mentioned above, the Kauffman boys, David Strohm, J. G. Starr and Professor Kingsfield are dead, the remainder of the boys are well and prospering. Will L. Smith, to whom THE REVIEW is indebted for much of the information contained in this article, had the mouthpiece of his horn up to about a year ago, when somebody stole it with some musical instruments from a store room in his place. His memory often reverts to the good old days of '57 and to the genial, companionable boys who banded together that music might soothe the pensive breasts of Decaturites.

Took His Own Life.

Lincoln Ashmore, aged about 30, committed suicide Friday evening at 6:30 at Bethany. He came there on Tuesday from Charleston, where he has a sister. He has relatives in Bethany, but always was rather odd and they paid little attention to him. He was staying at the Kendall hotel. The folks at the hotel noticed that he was not right and reported the fact to his relatives. They did what they could to cheer him up, but his mind was unbalanced. He called on the ministers several times and told them that his time had come and that he had a few little sins not atoned for, and asked them to pray for him.

Friday evening the boarders at the hotel were startled by a shot up stairs. On going to Ashmore's room he was found on the floor with a 35 calibre at his side and a hole in his head. The ball passed through his head just a little above the ears, and had sufficient force to pass through the partition wall.

A jury was empaneled and an inquest was held by Coroner Hardin. Several witnesses were examined, and the verdict was to the effect that Ashmore did this awful deed while insane.

Northeast Decatur.

D. O. Kincaid's house is in a fair way of completion. It is situated on North Clay-ton street and will be a neat little cottage of three rooms. It will make a nice little home for some one of the fair sex. No one knows who.

A force of the city men have been at work on North Calhoun and East Edmund for several days cleaning out the ditches and overhauling the streets generally, making a decided change in the appearance of things.

Kirby Hedrick left yesterday for Cumberland county, Ill., to visit an uncle. He says he may yet return to Kentucky.

A democratic primary to select delegates to the county convention, May 31, for the First district of the Fifth ward will be held at corner Edmund and Calhoun streets on Saturday evening, May 24, at 7:30.

Those who have made investments in real estate, in this part of the city, are beginning to wear great smiles on their faces, on account of the building up and improvements being made. New houses and additions in every direction can be noticed, and people painting and beautifying their places in every way. Let the good work go on and we predict a prosperous future.

Births.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Longuecker, at 943 North Calhoun street, on Friday, May 16. The weight is given as 14½ pounds.

A daughter was born on Saturday, May 17, to Mr. and Mrs. William Groves south of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Collins, 522 East Wood street, are the parents of a boy, which was born Saturday, May 17.

A daughter was born on Saturday, May 17, to Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Eller, at 144 East Packard street.

Two Higs Smashed.

A countryman left a team and light spring wagon standing at Tail's Check Rower factory yesterday morning while he went inside. When he came out the horses had run up North Main street and smashed the wagon into very small pieces. That run way started the horse to a domestic sewing machine wagon. When it was stopped the vehicle was in a sadly dilapidated condition in the gutter next to Gephart's store on North Water street.

Examining the "Co-op."

Decatur's co-operative building still continues a source of interest and a cause of inquiry by people in other cities. Friday night Dr. Payne and wife of Chicago called at the Roby to get information from Miss Fuller about the club, its management and success. They expressed great interest in it, and seemed astonished at the satisfaction that is spoken of on all sides. A large block of flats and apartments is to be put up in Chicago. It is to be a co-operative building, and all the occupants of the building are to use them, precisely on the plan that has been perfected in Decatur. That is why the doctor and his wife came here to see how the club is managed.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Keenle and two daughters from Springfield and a gentleman and two ladies from Quincy called at the club to ask almost the same questions put by the Chicago people. They too had heard of the club's success and are thinking of establishing similar ones in their cities.

The Waukegan Hunting Party.

William Traver gave a supper to the Waukegan hunting party last night in honor of B. W. Campbell and George Belden, of Cincinnati, members of the party, who are now guests of W. H. Starr. The company assembled early in the handsome parlors of Mr. Traver's new home on Prairie Avenue. The elaborate supper was served shortly afterwards. It occupied the attention of the gentlemen for some time. Card playing and story telling followed, and altogether the meeting was a very delightful reunion. Those invited were B. W. Campbell and George Belden, Cincinnati; George Starr, D. S. Shellabarger, William Chambers, William Bowers, Cass Cheno-weth, W. J. Cheno-weth, Charles Houson, E. C. Johns, W. C. Johns, L. L. Haworth, S. D. May, S. R. Guer, V. H. Parke, W. J. Wayne, W. H. Starr and J. R. Mills.

Temple Rob & House.

Yesterday the house of Nathaniel Griffith, on South Franklin street, was robbed of an overcoat and $20 in money. As soon as the police were informed they suspected a gang of tramps who have been hanging around the south part of the city, but were fired out of town Friday night.

It was learned that the tramps had started to walk south on the Central.

Officers Butts, Leach and Lawrence took the afternoon Central train, went to Macon and started to walk back. Halfway to Wheatland they met three tramps and brought them to Decatur on the train arriving at 9:45. The Macon officers arrested two tramps, making five in all that are locked up here and there. One of the gang told the missing overcoat to a trapper for $1 so it is thought these are the people wanted.

Teacher's Meetings.

The last meeting of the year of the county teacher's association was attended yesterday morning at the county superintendent's office by about 80 pedagogues. Professor W. A. Edwards of the high school talked on the schools of Germany and superintendent E. C. Estman described what he saw in the schools of Rock Island and Moline. A general discussion of different topics followed.

The city teachers' association met in the morning at the high school and heard talks by Mr. Edwards on Pedagogy and by Mr. Gastman on the manual training system in use in the schools of Moline and Rock Island.

Surprised a Teacher.

The Elwin school closed Friday, and the people there celebrated the day by giving the teacher, W. J. Meyer, a surprise party. About 11:30 he was greatly astonished to see over 70 of the parents and relatives of his pupils come filing into the school room door. It was some little time before he recovered, but when he did, he made the folks welcome and they proceeded to unload the baskets they had brought. A big dinner was soon spread out, and after it had been disposed of the big and little people passed the afternoon with games on the play ground. The teacher "set up" the bananas, peanuts, etc., and everybody had a gorgeous good time.

The Minors.

There were no developments in the minors "suspension" yesterday, and it is now supposed there will be none until after the meeting of the men the first of the week.

What are called the "company men," those men who drive the mules, work around the top, attend to getting water out of the mine and do other such work, were put to digging coal yesterday. They didn't do much, but it is intimated that the company will pay off the old men Tuesday when they see if they can run the mines without them.

Death of Mrs. Bold.

After an illness lasting over four months Mrs. William Bold died about 12 last night at her home on East Wood street. She leaves besides a husband five children, all of them small. She was born in Missouri about 33 years ago and had lived in Decatur just 12 years on last Thursday.

The funeral will be held at 2 p. m. Monday, at the residence, 335 East Wood street.

Hand Crushed.

Patrick Mooney was planting corn yesterday on his farm about two miles from the city. His little 4-year-old son climbed on the planter while he had stopped, and without noticing him Mr. Mooney started the team. The boy's hand was caught and badly crushed in the machine. Dr. Cotto, who dressed the wound, thinks he can save the hand.

La grippe is still quite common in Decatur, more especially among children. During the last few weeks there have been several fatal cases among the little ones.

Tennis "cranks" are getting more numerous than baseball "cranks." The young person now who is not a member of some tennis club feels decidedly lonesome.

The pleasant weather last evening brought out the usual Saturday night crowd in much fuller force than usual, and the soda fountain men did a rattling business as a consequence.

The novel window arrangement at A. J. Blain's West street drug store attracted a great deal of attention last night to the handsome new soda fountain that was put in place yesterday.

David Hunter, the engineer at the gas works, who was scalded Friday night, is worse hurt than was at first supposed. It will be some time before he will get back to work.

The dramatic club entertainment has been postponed until Thursday night, instead of Wednesday, on account of the absence of the Clappett-Ewing wedding of so many members.

The farmers were largely represented in the city yesterday by their wives and daughters. The dry goods, footwear and millinery stores did a good business, and everybody else complained of a dull day.

The second performance of the "Land of Nod" was given yesterday afternoon to a larger audience than before. The entertainment was in every way equal to the first performance, and was more profitable to the Christmas club.

William B. Burke, electrician at the gas works, and Miss Nina Chandler were married Thursday by Rev. Brinkerhoff, at the bride's home in Salem, Ill. They arrived in Decatur Friday and are now at home at 400 East Wood street.

Baron's advertising car No. 2 was here yesterday with a broken windowed calliope on board that made every one who heard it wish for a cyclone cellar in which to seek refuge. Old P. T. B. had better have that machine repaired or his show will be run in for a nuisance.

The Wabash is making the rate war as lively as possible. To-day it announces for to-morrow a rate to Denver from Decatur of $3.15. To Kansas City the rate is the same, $4.15. You can get a round trip ticket to Chicago now for $6.

The object of the meeting is to make arrangements for the state association soon to be held at Charleston.

The officers of the trunk factory are: John A. Barnes, president; A. B. Alexander, vice president, and John R. Moore, secretary and treasurer. The board is composed of D. R. Alexander, A. B. Alexander, John R. Moore and C. E. Barnes.

A great many tramps are hanging around town and getting into the calabashes of every opportunity. The police are thinking of using them in the work of tearing out the inside of the Morgan street hose house. If they could but be put to work anywhere they would begin to get scarce.

The Illinois Central people are as slow about getting some one to take the Central house off the hands of Col. A. C. Waterhouse as they are about putting up a new building. There is a rumor now among those near headquarters that the house will be given to Taggart, an old hotel man of Terre Haute.

A man named McElroy went into Melhorn's restaurant on the levee last night and ordered a sandwich. After eating it and while the clerk's back was turned, he filled up his pockets with pepper boxes, salt cellars and mustard mugs. Oliver Hoy found the fellow soon afterward on the platform asleep, but let him go home, as the proprietor did not care to prosecute.

A card party was given Friday night by Miss Belle Steele at her home on Prairie avenue. Progressive whist occupied the attention of the company until 10 o'clock, when refreshments were served. Walter Keeler, George Matthews, Oscar Dawson and Harry Hamsher.

Traveling Auditor A. N. Legg of the Wabash was in Decatur yesterday. He took a ride on the Short Line out to King's Orchard and as soon as he got back bought a lot. He says Decatur property is as good as anything he knows of. He went to Kansas City last night.

He Squelched the Young M. D.

For many years he had been the sole dispenser of pills in town, but in the height of his fame a rival in the shape of an immature fledgling from a medical school appeared on the scene. The young chap had just received his diploma and was one of those perambulatory encyclopedias of universal knowledge that one often sees in these days of liberal education.

The old doctor paid no attention to the young aspirant for fame. One day, however, the two were brought together at a consultation, and on this occasion the young M. D. essayed to squelch the old man with his preponderance of knowledge. He accordingly began to rattle off Latin phrases and French idioms in a manner that startled the old man.

"Yes," said the old doctor, meditatively, as he rubbed his chin, "that's so, that's so. But what do you think of a cataplasm for this case?"

"A—what?" ejaculated the new doctor, completely dumfounded.

"A cataplasm," was the reply.

"Well, I am not familiar with that mode of treatment, though I've seen it advertised. It's something new, isn't it?"

"New? Great heavens, no," exclaimed the old physician, thoroughly enjoying the joke. "A cataplasm means simply a poultice. It always has meant a poultice and probably always will."

The young doctor straightway subsided.—Lewiston Journal.

The Misery of Happiness.

What is a pessimist, my son? Well, if the spring opened unusually early, and there was an increase of 25 per cent. in the average of cereals sown, and the weather was so near perfection all summer that nobody cared to go to California, and the harvest showed a yield that fairly lifted the roof off the barn and made the sides of the elevator bulge, and prices have gone down 10 and wages increased 15 per cent., the national debt paid, taxes reduced, Saturday made a legal holiday and ten hours pay for eight hours' work established by constitutional amendment, all the almshouses closed for lack of patronage and the prisons sold to the hotel trust—if in the midst of all this dawning millennium you come across a man sitting on a fire plug on a windy corner, pouring down on his head and weeping because all this prosperity is apt to develop luxurious and wasteful habits among the masses—his a pessimist. "And what is your duty as a Christian man to such a sorrowful brother?" Kill him, my son, kill him. Don't use violence, just tell him to a man who is having a good time, and he won't last two hours.—Robert J. Burdette in Brooklyn Eagle.

You'll Find Most Newsboys Honest.

"The other day as I was going over South Division street," said a gentleman to some companions, "I chanced to wait a paper and whistled to a newsboy on Washington street and gave him a quarter to pay for it. The boy told me he had no change and asked me to wait for him while he went into a store to change it. I watched him as he disappeared in the doorway and after about five minutes time had elapsed I started to walk slowly toward Main street, and as I went by the store that I supposed the boy went in I noticed that a pair of stairs led up from the same entrance and an exit was furnished from the upper floor by another stairway leading into an alley in the rear of the building. 'Good-by to that boy,' I muttered as I passed on. As I stood on the corner waiting for an approaching car I felt some one tugging at my coat and as I turned a child's voice exclaimed: 'Here's your change, mister; the fellow in the store wouldn't wait on me or he'd have been back sooner.'"—Buffalo Express.

Proposed Bridge Over the Hudson.

Its central span would rise and fall eight feet owing to changes of temperature. The anchorages would be half as large as the Capitol at Washington, and each would contain 50 per cent. more masonry than the largest of the Egyptian pyramids. The cables would be four feet in diameter (the Brooklyn bridge cables are fifteen inches), and the towers would be 500 feet high. The bridge proper would accommodate ten railway tracks. Foot passengers could be lifted up to the level by elevators in the anchorages, but if it was desired to provide for the passage of vehicles they would have to ascend the palleads to reach its level.—New York Times.

Thrilling Adventure of the Pig.

Mr. Elmer W. Jordan, a prominent farmer of Albion, N. Y., tells the following remarkable story: He was walking over his plantation when he came to a sow which had a fine litter of pigs. He found one of them absent. Going a short distance further he overtook a huge rattlesnake, which he promptly dispatched. He noticed that it seemed very large, and was apparently gorged. Cutting it open, he found the missing pig, which, as soon as released from its close quarters, took to its heels and ran home.—Atlanta Constitution.
